

NEARLY ONE MILLION COAL MINERS STRIKE IN GREAT BRITAIN

Government Makes Vain Efforts to Adjust Trouble With Employers.

Minimum Wage Bill May Be Rushed Through Parliament.

Railroad Employees Pledge Themselves Not to Handle Troop Trains.

London, Feb. 28.—Upwards of three-quarters of a million coal miners had laid down their tools and gone on strike by 2 o'clock this afternoon when the day shift in the mines ended. The army of striking colliers swelled hourly throughout the morning when it became known that no settlement had been reached.

The premier and his colleagues in the cabinet, officials of the board of trade and other persons having influence with the coal owners and miners this morning made a final attempt to avert a national coal famine in Great Britain.

In the meantime the miners throughout the country prepared to quit work, and before night, unless some unexpected change comes over the situation, more than a million men and boys now employed in the mines will be idle and tens of thousands in other trades will be forced into a similar condition.

Tried to Avert Crisis.

The delegates of the miners were approached early this morning by Sir George Asquith, with some of the members of the board of trade, and also several labor members of the house of commons, with a view to finding some way out of the crisis. At the same time the coal owners' path-

MORE HANDS IN BIG MILLS

Fewer Pickets in Evidence in Strike at Lawrence, Mass.

All Labor Unions May Be Asked to Give to Fund.

Lawrence, Mass., Feb. 28.—More operatives were working in the various textile mills today than on any previous day of the big strike which is now on its eighth week. Fewer pickets were in evidence than usual and the police were given but little trouble.

Prior to the departure of the 7:31 train for Boston, a crowd of about 50 persons gathered at the railroad station in the belief that a party of children was to be sent away, but upon learning of the strike they were changed, they soon dispersed.

Several lines of activity in connection with the strike were continued. A probable development was the formal declaration of a strike by the Central Labor union of this city.

BEGIN ARGUING KIMMEL'S CASE

Forty Thousand Dollars at Stake in St. Louis Suit.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 28.—Attorneys today commenced arguments to twelve men in the United States district court here upon whom the government has placed the task of solving the Kimmel identity mystery. Involving the payment of a life insurance policy, other policies, with their accrued interests and refundable premiums, made the amount at stake in the case.

The receiver of the defunct Bank of New York, Mich., brought suit in 1904 against an insurance company of New York to recover payment on a policy on the life of George A. Kimmel, Arkansas City, Kan., banker who mysteriously disappeared in 1904.

Alvin's sister, Edna, now Mrs. Edna Bonsett, was the beneficiary and assigned the policy to the bank.

KNOX STUDYING THE BIG DITCH

Secretary of State Is Making a Tour of the Isthmus.

Panama City, Feb. 28.—Secretary of State Knox left here this morning at 8 o'clock with the intention of making a leisurely trip to Colon with frequent stops on the way for the purpose of inspecting the Panama canal.

When taking leave of the large party of government officials who accompanied him to the station, Mr. Knox told them that he was pleased with the cordiality of the welcome with which he had been received.

Mr. Knox and his companions will return on board the cruiser Washington this afternoon, when anchor will be at once weighed and the warship will proceed for Port Limon, Costa Rica, where the ship is expected to arrive tomorrow and to continue the journey to the capital, San Jose, at once.

The newspapers here continue today to express friendly sentiments toward the United States and appreciation of the visit of the secretary of state. The Panama City council has adopted resolutions complimentary to the visitor.

Mr. Knox just night made his first formal appeal for a closer union of the American republics. The occasion was a state dinner given by the acting president of Panama, Rodolfo Chiari, in honor of Mr. Knox and judging by the applause, the secretary's remarks were received in a spirit that was markedly sympathetic and cordial.

Just before the speaking began, much excitement was caused by a flashlight, which set fire to the paper decorations. The photographer and others promptly stamped out the blaze. The diners, most of whom remained seated, cheered. Little harm was done.

FIGHT CHICAGO FIRE THAT STARTED FEB. 5.

Chicago, Feb. 28.—Firemen were called to the North Main Malt company here today to fight a fire which originally started on Feb. 5. A large part of the plant, which contained thousands of bushels of grain, was destroyed at that time. Until last Tuesday water was poured into the smoldering ruins. Believing the fire had been extinguished the firemen left two days ago, but flames again were leaping high when they were recalled today.

PEKIN SCENE OF MAD RIOTS

Soldiers Burn Houses and Shoot Recklessly in the Crowded Streets.

Yuan Shi Kai Wants Autocratic Power in Government.

Pekin, Feb. 28.—A revolt has broken out among a portion of Yuan Shi Kai's troops, some hundreds of whom started a riot this evening at 8 o'clock.

They wrecked and set fire to a number of houses and paraded the streets, shooting indiscriminately.

A strong force of loyal soldiers has been ordered out and is endeavoring to restore order in the city. The streets are crowded and the greatest alarm prevails among the inhabitants.

Two Thousand Mutineers.

The mutineers at 9:30 o'clock this evening numbered about 2,000. Hundreds of shops already have been looted.

Much reckless shooting occurred outside the Chienmen Gate of the Forbidden City, near which the legation quarters lie situated.

Inside the city proper the situation is quieting and it is hoped by the authorities that the riot will be quickly suppressed.

Sneed, a wealthy banker of Amarillo, Tex., believed Capt. Boyce had tried to assist his son, Al Boyce, in abducting Mrs. Sneed, and shot Capt. Boyce in a Fort Worth hotel.

The jury was out 112 hours.

He is accused of the murder of James Blair, also a negro.

DEFEAT IS PREDICTED

Former Senator Spooner Says Taft or Roosevelt Will Lose.

Republican Split Means the Election of Democratic President.

(By Willis J. Abbot.)

Washington, Feb. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—One can get almost any sort of expression concerning the political effect of the Roosevelt appearance in the presidential arena—except an expression of surprise. Every politician at the capital has expected it for months and they only wonder that it has been delayed so long. But in discussing its probable results there are only two classes of public men who seem exultant—a fraction of the Progressive Republicans and most of the Democrats.

I say a fraction of the Progressive Republicans, because those who were really serious in raising the banner of La Follette believe that the leader they had chosen has been betrayed in the house of his friends. They insist that the Viscountian man will not join in the Roosevelt hurrah but will continue a candidate until the convention has chosen a standard bearer. The Cummins men, too, are disappointed. HUNGRY PERSIANS EATING CHILDREN

Startling Stories of Famine Conditions Told By Miss Moody.

Washington, Feb. 28.—Startling allegations of cannibalism among starving Persians are contained in letters from Teheran to the Persian-American Educational society here from Dr. Susan I. Moody, formerly of Chicago. She declares fathers are eating their children and children are eating each other in Northwestern Persia, in the vicinity of Hamadan, where famine has followed the sacking of twenty-five towns and villages by the rebel troops of Salar-ed-Dowleh, brother of the deposed shah.

Forty thousand people are starving, it is declared, and the society has started a relief fund. The National Red Cross also will be asked for assistance. Until new crops have been grown and harvested, there will be no opportunity for the homeless Salar-ed-Dowleh, who led the rebels, has been placed in official position as governor at Shiraz in the Russian sphere of influence in Northern Persia. Recently the Persian government signified its willingness to grant him about $11,000 a year and restore to him his $40,000 confiscated by order of W. Morgan Shuster while he was treasurer of Persia. This was conditioned on his living abroad.

DAIRYMEN INDIGNANT

Claim Governor Is Helping Centralized Creameries Against Co-operatives.

Will Ask for Law for Supervision of Duluth Board of Trade.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Governor Eberhart was strongly condemned at the meeting of the Minnesota Co-operative Dairy association at the old capitol for his attitude toward the centralized creamery. It was charged that the co-operative creameries were rigidly investigated by the inspectors of the dairy and food department, while the centralized creameries were in many cases not inspected at all. It was the sentiment of the speakers that Joel G. Winkler, dairy and food commissioner, and his assistants were not to blame for this condition, but that the chief executive "sat on him."

Governor Eberhart also has aroused

Pure Food Chief Says Enemies Started Rumors About Him.

Anti-Saccharine Ruling Approved--Wilson Refuses to Show Papers.

Washington, Feb. 28.—Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief chemist of the department of agriculture, denied today that he had any intention of resigning from office. He characterized as "preposterous" and "pure fiction" the rumors to the effect that he was considering such action, and that he probably would come out with a statement attached to Secretary Wilson and the administration.

Dr. Wiley declared the rumors that he was about to resign undoubtedly came from "enemies" who recently had attacked him in other ways. As to the report that after resigning he would be a candidate for vice president on the Democratic ticket, the doctor laughed and said: "I could not run on that ticket. I am a whole Democratic party man. I believe in the equal rights of man—the Montana Senator Is Urged to Take Charge of the Work.

Ex-President Returns to New York But Refuses to Talk.

Washington, Feb. 28.—A general Roosevelt committee, including in its membership Medill McCormick, Clifford Pinchot, Ames Pinchot, Senator Dixon of Montana and probably James A. Garfield and other close friends of Col. Roosevelt, will be organized in Washington early next week to take charge of the Roosevelt campaign here.

It has not yet been determined whether these Washington headquarters will dominate activities throughout the country in behalf of the former president's candidacy, but it will at least work in entire harmony with the Chicago and other Roosevelt headquarters and will help direct the organization of campaign committees throughout the Union.

Washington headquarters was opened by Medill McCormick after his withdrawal from the support of Senator La Follette. Mr. McCormick left Washington yesterday and it is understood he will have a conference with Col. Roosevelt upon campaign matters before returning to Washington Sunday.

No Speaking Tour Planned.

New York, Feb. 28.—Back from his trip to Boston, Col. Roosevelt resumed work at his editorial office here today. It was his first day in New York since his announcement that he was willing to accept the presidential nomination, and a large number of politicians went to see him.

Col. Roosevelt said he expected to remain in New York until tomorrow afternoon, when he will go to Oyster Bay. He said he had made no definite plans for the time before the Republican national convention in June. He has received many invitations to speak but said he did not wish to make extended trips if he could avoid it. One

BATTLE ROYAL OVER PREACHER

Four Hundred Negroes Fight at Trial Sermon Meeting.

Chicago, Feb. 28.—Dissension among the members of a colored church in Evanston over the calling of Rev. William Fields to the pastorate, led to a riot during services there last night. There were no arrests, but the pastor and several of the 400 members participated in the fight were badly bruised. Police quelled the riot.

The congregation is said to have been about evenly divided on the calling of Fields. Finally it was decided to have him preach a trial sermon last night. The pastor was little more than fairly launched on his discourse when one of his opponents mounted the pulpit and dragged him into an aisle. Then the entire assembly took up the fight.

An anonymous telephone message summoned the police, who had great difficulty in restoring quiet.

LAUDS WOMEN OF OLDEN TIME

Kansas City Club Woman Thinks Modern Dames Less Worthy.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 28.—"If the women of today were deprived of modern methods and appliances and forced to live as our old-fashioned grandmothers lived, she would freeze, or starve to death through ignorance of the crudest laws of self-preservation," said Miss Josephine Casey, a local club woman, addressing the Kansas City Historical Society exposition today.

"Factory, packing house and wholesale grocery," she continued, "have taken from the housewife's shoulders the burden of carding, spinning and weaving the family garments, to say nothing of the curing of meats, preserving fruits, making butter and cheese and even refining sugar."

A movement was started to form an "olden dames" club among the society women attending the exposition, the minimum age limit to be 60 years, and the object to be the perpetuation of memories of the olden time.

WANTS TO BE JUDGE; WOULD ABOLISH JURY.

La Crosse, Wis., Feb. 28.—The abolition of the jury system and the power of the judge to appoint a board of arbitration in all law suits is advocated in the judicial platform of the La Crosse Social Democratic party, which Prof. L. Philip Denoyer will run for the circuit judgeship of the 5th circuit. It is argued that this provision would do away with expensive lawyers and juries and that the ends of justice be more clearly served.

Let Us Stop Drifting and Consider Facts.

It is a cold, hard fact that no civilized man can live contentedly or die respectably without MONEY.

WELSH MUSIC AT FREE CONCERT

The program for the free concert at the auditorium of the Masonic temple Sunday, March 3, at 2:30 p. m., follows:

Organ: Grand March, in C.....Gounod.
Allegro de Concert, Op. 46.....Chopin.
Vocal: "Bright Summer Morning".....A. R. Bjorklund.
Organ: "Bohemian Girl" selections.....Balf.
"Tom Jones" dances.....Morris.
Vocal: "The Men of Harlech".....Ed Gorman.
"Reminiscences of Wales".....Arranged by Godfrey.
Vocal: "Men of Harlech".....Welsh.
Organ: "Maritana" selections.....Wallace.
It is quite difficult to secure a very extensive presentation of Welsh music, notwithstanding the fact that as a people the Welsh are doing further north, but the vocalist for the Sunday concert has selected two of the very pronounced Welsh songs, the first one homely, dainty and beautiful, the other really the battle cry of the Welsh and a very stirring piece of music. It is the "March past" of the Welsh Fusiliers and of the Canadian regiment of volunteers, "The Princess of Wales" Own.

The organ music is not so well selected for its Welshness, as there are not many such pieces to play, but Godfrey's "Reminiscences of Wales" includes some of the old Welsh tunes, beginning with the Men of Harlech and ending with "God Save the Prince of Wales." The program is a very interesting and a very stirring piece of music. It is the "March past" of the Welsh Fusiliers and of the Canadian regiment of volunteers, "The Princess of Wales" Own.

shows that she is equally at home on the stage as a dramatic performer or in a circus giving some during spectacular exhibition. She gives a most realistic representation of the rough-slashy girl in her first act and then shows a most interesting metamorphosis into the refined young woman under the wholesome influence of the home of the minister, who takes care of her after she has been injured in one of her circus feats. Joseph Morris as Rev. John Douglas, the young preacher, who falls in love with the circus girl while he is taking care of her and educating her, presents an intensely interesting character. Probably the most amusing role in the play is that of Deacon Strong, handled by Walter Wesley. He is a narrow-minded religious bigot who does everything in his power to prevent what he considers a disgraceful marriage, and is seconded in his efforts by the general body of the congregation. Yet "love finds its way" and wins at last.

Amusement Notes.

Probably the best and most popular feature of this week's bill at the Orpheum, is his "roulette wheel" on which Loughlin's Comedy Dogs perform. The wheel is a large round board with a number of pockets, and the dogs are trained to keep their feet under all conditions. The others are sent sprawling to the floor and back again time after time, but this one dog keeps galloping in front of him and is whirled under him, he nonchalantly leaps over his body. Sometimes they fairly sweep his legs from under him, but almost invariably he regains his feet and keeps his position on the wheel. One sorrowful little hound pup firmly hugs the center of the wheel and refuses to join in the sport. Another clumsy pup is never able to keep his feet for more than a few seconds, and is whirled off on his back, but he returns to the game with a persistence that is very amusing. The act is the most novel feature ever seen in a trained animal act at the Orpheum and is one long laugh for the audience.

To the average person, the "rube" portrayed on the stage is a funny, clumsy, ignorant creature, a blunderer and a fool. The Orpheum, however, has a different view of the "rube" and has a most interesting and amusing play, "His Awful Nightmares," will vouch for the fact that there are such "rubes" and says that he has come in contact with them. At the time Eddon & Clifton were appearing with "The Belle of Japan" company, they had occasion to play a small mining town in Pennsylvania. The show was to be presented in the town hall which did not have every convenience for the performers. It had no dressing rooms but back of the stage was a room which served the double purpose of checkroom and kitchen whenever there was a dance in the hall. As this was the only room which had a stove in it, it was given to the women of the company for a dressing room. When they had about completed their making-up the door opened very quietly and the "rube" utility man stuck his head into the room and said, "Ladies, how's the fire?" "It's all right," replied Miss Clifton, "but don't you think you ought to be a little more careful in coming into a dressing room where there are ladies." "Oh, that's all right," replied the rube, "I peeked before I came in."

RAISING HIS PAY CHECK

Clonquet, Minn., Feb. 29.—(Special to The Herald).—Charles Johnson, who last Saturday came down from the camps of one of the local lumber companies, and is said to have tried to raise his pay check to $100, yesterday afternoon was bound over by Judge W. H. Skemp in municipal court to the grand jury.

The case of Apostol Apontikals, a Greek laborer, was heard before Municipal Judge H. F. Snow of Canton. The Greek had been in jail several months, and was at first charged with burglarizing the Sather store at Seaton, but the charge before Judge Snow was receiving stolen property which he knew was stolen. He was bound over to the grand jury.

"POLLY OF THE CIRCUS."

Old Favorite Again Pleases Audience at the Lyceum Theater.

The old but popular theme of love in the ring, and all obstacles connected with the plot of the play, "Polly of the Circus," was presented last night at the Lyceum theater by Ida St. Leon and her troupe. Although the play has been given in Duluth several times before, the audience that it drew last night was highly enthusiastic. One very pleasing feature was the circus scene in the third act where the St. Leon family of acrobats and gymnasts performed feats that were right in place in a regular circus.

A VILLAGE HOME

Where Pe-ru-na Is Used As An All-Round
Reliable Family Medicine.

There Are Thousands of Similar Homes In Which Pe-ru-na Is Being Used With the Same Excellent Results.

Doylstown, Pa., Feb. 16, 1902.

S. B. Hartman, M. D.
Dear Sir: I have been thinking of writing to you for some time to let you know what Peruna did for me. I am 57 years old. I lost my health about six or seven years ago. I first had dyspepsia and employed different doctors.

Last year I injured one of my kidneys. I had one of the best doctors for that. He put me to bed, not to move for two weeks.

I slowly recovered, but was so weak and prostrated that I could walk but a short distance. In fact I had to keep quiet.

I took several remedies, but obtained no relief. I also had catarrh in some form.

My wife advised me to take Peruna, and it is with pleasure that I can say that by taking one and one-half bottles of your Peruna, it cured me and I feel all right. I send this with many thanks to you, as I enjoy life again.

My wife has also been taking your Peruna for asthma and it helps to relieve her. We keep your Peruna in the house constantly. Again I say I thank you for Peruna.
Sincerely yours,
PHILIP KRATZ.

Doylstown, Pa., Nov. 9, 1903.
Dr. S. B. Hartman,
Dear Sir: I have good health now and your valuable medicine gave me good health. I have had the doctor for some time, as I do not need any. When I take cold I take Peruna and in a short time I am all right. My wife is subject to asthma. She takes Peruna at that time, and she has had no need for a doctor for some time. With many thanks for your medicine, we remain,

Sincerely yours,
PHILIP KRATZ.

Doylstown, Pa., April 16, 1908.
Dr. S. B. Hartman.

Dear Sir: We have Peruna in the house all the time and when we think we need it, we take it. We are about sixty years old and have not called a doctor in our place for some years. We go out in all kinds of weather and sometimes when we go on a trip we take Peruna along. A preventive is better than a cure. That has been our experience.
I had poor health some years ago and when I found your medicine I hit the right thing. We both thank you for your good medicine.
Sincerely yours,
PHILIP KRATZ.

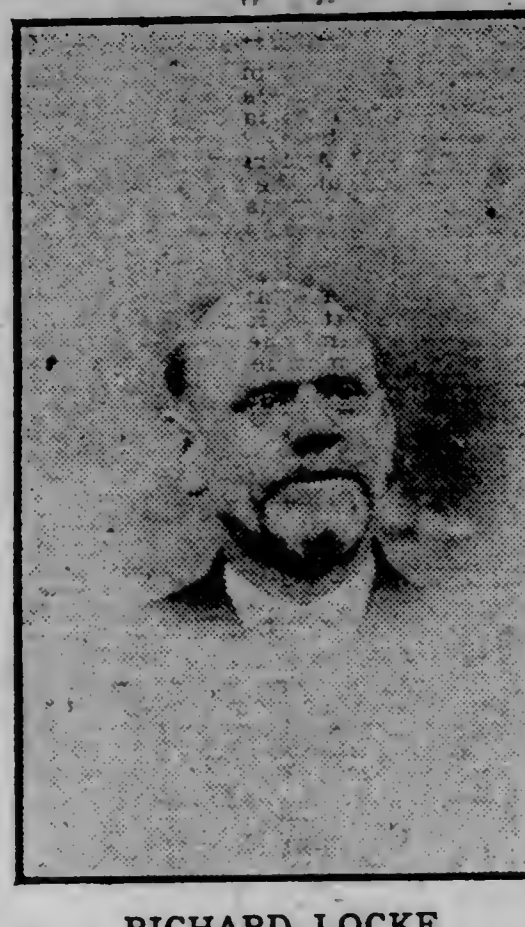

Mayor Witness to Signatures.
I, John Donnelly, Mayor of Doylstown, Pa., have been acquainted with Mr. Philip Kratz for 25 years. I know him to be an honorable and useful citizen. He, in my presence, signed the above statements concerning Peruna, which I have every reason to believe are true in all particulars.

DULUTH MAN KNEW ENGLAND'S KING AS A LITTLE BOY

Richard Locke, the elevator operator at the Y. M. C. A. building, is a great admirer of the British royal family, and his opinion is not based on what others have told him, but on what he has himself observed.

Mr. Locke has not been in this country many years. He was born and raised in England and spent most of his life there. He knew the present British king as a little boy. That was more than thirty years ago. Mr. Locke was at that time a valet, employed in the aristocratic family of England, especially at London. While the prince of Wales, later King Edward VII, was residing at Marlborough house in London and his two sons, Clarence and George, had their daily games, Mr. Locke frequently had the task of bringing their little visitors to the royal house, and coming for them again when it was time to go home. In this way he often observed the princes at their play. He declares that they were jolly, rollicking youngsters, whose royal blood did not interfere in the least with their enjoyment of what some amusement, nor did it render them anything else towards their visitors than what little playmates would be to each other. Later in life, when the princes went hunting in the English game preserve, Mr. Locke seemed to expect no different treatment from their companions than the latter received from their own countrymen.

"The ideas and spirit of Queen Victoria, as she appeared in conversation on the subject today, seemed to go all through her family. Queen Victoria would shake hands with anybody. Edward, prince of Wales, and afterwards king, acted in the same way. His sons learned to be sailors in the British navy, working themselves up through a regular course of training like the rest. It is no wonder that the people of England have such a strong affection for the royal family. It is well deserved."

Views and Views of Minnesota Politics

Trouble for the Governor.

Two sources of trouble for Governor Eberhart developed yesterday. Talk of Weaver of Mankato as a candidate for governor took a serious turn. Mr. Weaver, who is a native of Earth county. When F. F. Ellsworth stated in an interview that he would support an anti-Eberhart delegation would be sent to the state convention from Blue Earth county, a candidate in opposition to the governor might have been some one else. It now appears that Ellsworth had good grounds for his statement. Blue Earth county Republicans are said to be in a mood to repudiate Eberhart as the candidate of that county and to tie up the state at St. Paul of the delegates from his home county would be a candidate from the same county is almost a calamity.

The second occurrence to disturb the tranquility of the executive offices was the severe criticism by the Co-operative Dairyman's association, the state dairy and food commission for connivance in 1910 and of the city centralized dairies against the co-operative dairies in favor of the latter. The association is antagonistic to the governor on the part of an organization of farmers who will be disturbing to the administration.

Roosevelt Plans.
Irving A. Caswell has called a meeting of the Roosevelt committee at the Merchants hotel, St. Paul, for the purpose of determining whether a state meeting shall be held and to perfect the organization of the committee. The members of the committee are: H. Dunn, Albert Lea; Second district, H. Canfield, Laverne; Third, Dr. J. H. Gates, Kenyon; Fourth, H. T. Halbert, St. Paul; Fifth, J. A. Dore, Walker; Sixth, J. A. Dore, Walker; Seventh, J. A. Dore, Walker; Eighth, J. A. Dore, Walker; Ninth, W. J. Brown, Warren.

Mr. Caswell has appointed temporary officers of the Roosevelt committee. A. Farnham, St. Paul, a well-known lawyer, manager of the Fred Stevens campaign for governor in 1908 and heretofore counted a Taft man, has been appointed treasurer, and J. H. Canfield, Minneapolis, executive clerk under Governor Van Sant, is secretary. Both are regarded as sound politicians. Mr. Farnham and Mr. Canfield have many friends throughout the state. The appointments seem to indicate an intention on the part of Roosevelt men to sidetrack the activity of a certain element that has espoused the cause but carries no great influence for good.

The temporary organization of the Roosevelt committee will probably be made permanent next week and campaign plans will be made. The non-union committee has written Mr. Caswell that speakers will be sent into Minnesota. Clifford Pinchot, Governor Hadley of Missouri and Governor Stubbs of Kansas will be in North Dakota next week, and they may be brought to Minnesota later.

The Campaign in Duluth.
As Sam Gordon stated last week, the program of the Roosevelt campaign in the governorship in the state at present, and the campaign of the Roosevelt committee will be quiet until after the delegate convention.

Neither campaign has had a very great effect in Duluth thus far. The Taft club has been organized and is preparing for work. The Roosevelt men have no organization, but some of the Republican leaders have been in conference with Mr. Caswell and some Roosevelt activity may be expected soon.

The Progressive Republican league, which was organized last year, has not had a meeting since the Roosevelt movement assumed serious proportions. When the league was organized it was regarded as a La Follette organization, but that was principally due to the fact that there was then no other Progressive candidate in the field. Since Roosevelt's candidacy has been announced many members of the league have declared allegiance to the colonel, and a poll of the members now would probably show a preponderance of sentiment for the ex-president.

"If any Roosevelt organization is formed, it will be independent of the Progressive league," said President Hans Harbison this morning. "The league is not committed to the candidacy of any man and the members are free to give their support where they will. The league was organized to support Progressive principles and has nothing to do with the candidates above the man."

A meeting of the league will be held soon when its present character will probably be shown. Mr. Harbison, however, has been a leader of the movement as now regarded as Roosevelt men and if the league is to be of any use, the action will probably be for Roosevelt.

Personal sentiment for La Follette has never been strong in Duluth. His candidacy was given some encouragement here last fall, but the sentiment was for Progressive principles rather than for the individual candidate. The title of the league was working by the committee of twelve, working as the State Progressive league, has no "La Follette against the field" feeling here.

Oratory in North Dakota.
With the presidential primary only a little more than two weeks away, there is excitement in North Dakota. A series of oratory is being given in the prairie of the Pickrel State between this time and May 1. If the "most liberal" expenditures made on Mr. Stephenson's behalf in the election, but in the election from the past to work for the colonel. Governor Hadley of Missouri and the Governor Stubbs of Kansas are also headed for the Pickrel State bearing the Roosevelt banner. The outside talent doesn't make up the whole show by any means. They grow orators in every field in North Dakota and the local orators can show the visitors some original and effective stunts in the line of spell-binding.

That the cause is so hopeless that no list of delegates has been attached to it. The fight is between Roosevelt and La Follette. The La Follette men are making a bid for their victory in the election in North Dakota. It will indicate that their campaign is still alive. If they lose, they may as well fold their tents and evacuate the field.

Want Date Changed.
D. W. Lawler, acting for the Ramsey county members of the Democratic state central committee, has written Chairman D. D. Daly asking that the date of the meeting of the committee be changed from March 19 to March 20.

James D. Keough, a former Duluth man, is a Democratic candidate for the assembly in St. Paul. He has many friends in the city and is expected to be the outcome of his contest with interest.

BREWERS WILL PUT UP FIGHT Will Resist East Grand Forks Ordinance Taxing Their Agencies $1,000.

East Grand Forks, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Tomorrow morning this city will attempt to enforce an ordinance providing for a license of $1,000 from all brewing companies in the city. Only one company out of fifteen doing business here has applied for a license under the ordinance, and for fifteen days at least the other companies, if they do business, will be operating contrary to the provisions of the agency licensing measure, as that period of time is required before the council can grant a license after application is filed.

Claim Ordinance Unconstitutional.
The brewers have announced their intention of fighting the measure, contending that the city is without authority to license the business of wholesaling liquor. This city is a pioneer in the attempt to create such a license, and the big brewing companies will make a hard fight to prevent the carrying into effect of the measure.

An ordinance increasing the license of saloons from $500 to $1,000 goes into effect April 24.

CITY CAN LEGALLY REFUND LICENSE MONEY.

Fergus Falls, Minn., Feb. 23.—Judge C. A. Nye has filed a decision in the Fergus Falls cases relating to the refund of the unexpired portion of city license money. He decides that the action of the city in paying back to saloon keepers the unexpired portion of the license money after license had been voted out, was valid.

ZIMMERMAN QUESTIONED

Adams Express Official Admits Rates Are Fixed Arbitrarily.

Primary System Attacked in Senate—Other Washington Doings.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Rates of express companies are fixed arbitrarily, practically without reference even to the first-class rail freight rate.

In brief, that was the statement of Joseph Zimmerman, general traffic manager of the Adams Express company, at the investigation by the interstate commerce commission into express rates and methods.

"We make our rates regardless of what the freight rate is between the same points," said Mr. Zimmerman. "I suppose no man living knows how express rates originally were made, or could say definitely how they are now made."

"Do you know of any basis for an express rate?" inquired Commissioner Lane.

"It probably is based on the distance, with a weight of about 100 pounds as the unit," replied the witness. Rates to points intermediate between two points, he thought, would be adjusted practically arbitrarily.

Further inquiries by Commissioner Lane developed the admission from Mr. Zimmerman that the various express companies leaned on one another in the fixing of rates to avoid war among them.

Primary System Attacked.
The primary election system, adopted by many states, was attacked in the senate during consideration of the election of Senator Stephenson of Wisconsin. Senator Heyburn declared the primary opened the way for "fixing" while it was condemned as unsatisfactory by Senators McCumber and Overman. Senators Borah and Hiram Wood defended the law.

Mr. Heyburn, chairman of the judicial committee, which exonerated Senator Stephenson of charges of corruption in his election, admitted that he did not approve of the "most liberal" expenditures made on Mr. Stephenson's behalf in the election, but in the election from the past to work for the colonel.

Sugar Schedules Framed.
Democratic members of the house and senate committees after many stormy conferences and differences, agreed on a schedule for the sugar tariff schedule next Friday afternoon.

Representatives of commercial organizations in Boston, Philadelphia, San Francisco and Portland, Or., urged President Taft to see to it that no transcontinental railroad be permitted to operate steamship lines through the Panama canal. They advocated free traffic through the canal, or tolls favoring American shipping. Later several of them renewed their appeal before the senate interstate commerce committee.

Herick Leaving the House.
Former Governor Myron F. Herick of Ohio, recently appointed ambassador to France, succeeding Robert Bacon, resigned, was a guest of the Washington with a delegation from the American Bankers' association interested in the legislation before congress, but that he intended to learn something about being a diplomat from the state department while he waited for the new ambassador and the president.

TALK ABOUT NORMALS

Reports Are Made at National Education Department Meetings.

Dean James Heads the Society of College Teachers.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 23.—Members of the department of superintendence of the National Education association met in joint session with the National Council of Education this morning to receive the report of the latter organization's committee on uniform records and reports. President C. H. Keyes of the council presided.

The department of normal schools was also in session, these two meetings being the only ones of the last day of the association's four days' convention here.

George D. Strayer, professor of educational administration in the teachers' college of Columbia university, discussed the problems of standards and tests of the efficiency of schools. Dr. Strayer, chairman of the committee appointed to study this subject, called attention to the fact that there are three distinct, but intimately related, fields in which standards or tests must be applied: the first, with respect to the business administration of schools; second, in the field of organization and administration of the more strictly educational part of the school; and third, in the measurement of the achievement of individual pupils, classes or schools, in the subjects commonly taught.

Reports On Normals.—Members of the Iowa State Teachers' college and chairman of the committee of eleven on normal school statistics, reported the findings of this committee before the department of normal schools.

"With all their popularity, the majority of them do not seem to enlarge their importance or to demand their part in the national and state opportunities that all other high education libraries."

The department of superintendence elected these officers: Supt. E. B. Dyer, Cincinnati, president; Samuel Hamilton, superintendent of schools, Allegheny county, Pennsylvania, first vice president; Mrs. E. C. Kinley, assistant superintendent of schools, Boston, second vice president; B. W. Torreyson, state department of education, Little Rock, Ark., secretary.

Philadelphia was selected as the 1912 convention city for the department of superintendence.

The department adopted resolutions urging the creation of a national children's bureau; asking congress for recognition of the need of an enlargement of the department of education; and recognizing the Panama-Pacific international exposition at San Francisco in 1915 as an opportunity for an exhibition of educational progress.

Others Elect Officers.—The national committee of agricultural education elected these officers: H. H. Serley, president of the Iowa State Teachers' college, Cedar Falls, Iowa, president; E. F. Balcomb, agricultural department, North Carolina State college, Greensboro, N. C., secretary.

Dean George F. James of Minnesota university was elected president of the Society of College Teachers of Education.

On the evening of March 1 the United States revenue office will be open until midnight for the purpose of accommodating corporations late in turning in their yearly reports.

As the law provides that the reports must be filed on March 1, he will hold the office open until midnight, to give the tardy ones a chance to bring in their reports before the time expires.

GROWTH OF ST. PETERSBURG.

Consular and Trade Reports: That St. Petersburg is rapidly growing in population is evidenced by the census taken in December, 1910, which showed the population, including certain suburban villages formerly not covered, to be 1,967,708. It is pre-eminently an "office town" and also a seaport for six or eight months of the year.

The principal industry is the manufacture of cotton textiles, although its advantage as a port of entry for the interior is gaining recognition. A line of steamers has been established in Cuba, connecting there with a trans-Atlantic line to New York. This enables American shippers to send goods direct to the port without the delay of transshipment in foreign ports.

The production of sugar cane in Cuba for the crop year ending with September exceeded 1,459,000 tons.

Minnesota day will be observed in the schools tomorrow. In the grade schools programs covering the history and resources of the state will be held. The regular monthly meeting of the board of education will be held tomorrow evening. The indications are that it will be a quiet meeting with only routine business up for consideration.

NEARLY ONE MILLION COAL MINERS STRIKE IN GREAT BRITAIN

ered again at the foreign office, where they conferred with Premier Asquith and several members of the cabinet.

Each side is now blaming the other for the failure of the negotiations. The miners say the coal owners did not show a conciliatory attitude, while the owners insist that the miners were determined to strike no matter what terms were offered.

It is understood that the government has drafted a minimum wage bill with safeguards for the owners and is ready to rush it through parliament in case of necessity.

Meetings were held by the coal miners' federation and the coal owners' association late in the morning, but they apparently only resulted in a reiteration of the refusal of the participants to change from their respective positions.

the free of the leaders in the movement for closer affiliation between the dairy and consumer by his refusal to appoint delegates to the meeting or to permit the dairy to place a placard in the co-operative creameries would be sold.

The co-operative movement was the most important and vital movement to the farmer and the consumer now in existence.

Plans were discussed for the erection of an independent storage plant and commission house in St. Paul, Minn., which all of the dairy producers in the co-operative creameries would be sold.

A. A. Trovaten, chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements for the Northwest Farmers' Co-operative meeting here March 6 to 8, told of the plans of the promoters, promised several conditional drawbacks and asked each man present to go home and return next Wednesday with at least two others.

the revolution, is endeavoring, according to some views, to obtain automatic powers. The republicans continue to entertain a certain distrust for Premier Yuan, and new difficulties have developed since the abdication.

One report current is that Yuan Shi Kai will proceed to Nanking within a fortnight, after the formation of the cabinet, and the appointment of Tang Shao Yi as premier. The new premier would then remain in charge in the north during Yuan's absence.

invitation, however, he has accepted. It is to speak before the convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the household of Gettysburg, Pa., on Memorial day.

Medill McCormick of Chicago, who has been managing the Roosevelt headquarters in Washington, is on hand here, and Roosevelt reached his office, prepared for an all-day discussion of the situation.

A Misunderstanding. Mr. McCormick denied the statement that he had come over to the city because of a misunderstanding with the colonel. It had been said that he was disappointed in the Roosevelt nomination, but he said that was not the case.

Mr. McCormick said he was a good supporter of the Roosevelt movement. He said that he had not insisted on being placed in entire charge.

For ten days, he said, he had done everything possible to induce Senator Dixon to undertake the Roosevelt nomination. Other friends of Col. Roosevelt have been working for the same purpose, and he hoped he would be able to undertake the work, although it meant a very great sacrifice.

Mr. McCormick said he was singularly silly. Mr. Knox, chairman of the Republican state committee of Michigan, also conferred with the colonel, and also conferred with the colonel, and also conferred with the colonel.

MORE HANDS IN BIG MILLS

Should such a vote be passed? It was expected that a general call for funds would be issued to unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

Relief Stations Crowded. The relief daily are becoming more crowded with applicants for food. Before each of the stations early today there were several hundred hungry persons, including a large proportion of children.

Much attention was given today by the strike leaders to the arrangements for forwarding to Washington tomorrow afternoon a party of strikers, principally child workers, who are to appear before the congressional committee Saturday, as a living exhibit in connection with the strikers' story of their grievances.

Col. Leroy Sweetser, who has been in command of the strike since they were brought here seven weeks ago, will be relieved from further duty before the close of the week, according to an announcement tonight.

It is in response to his repeated requests on the grounds that personal business required his attention.

Saccharine Is Barred. By a vote of 2 to 1, the board of cabinet officers charged with the enforcement of the pure food law today entered a final decision against the use of saccharine in prepared food.

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson and Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel confirmed the decision that food containing saccharine was adulterated. Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh also assented. On such a basis will be given manufacturers to arrange for the elimination of saccharine.

The decision settles a controversy of nearly four years standing. Secretary of Agriculture Wilson's decision of 1908, which was a substitution involving a reduction in the food value of the sweetened product and hence a reduction in its quality.

Manufacture of Delicacy. A decision then was made that the use of saccharine was prohibited after July 1, 1911. On appeals from the manufacturers, however, the time was extended.

Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh signed the original decision prohibiting the use of saccharine but further hearings evidently convinced him that its use in very small quantities should be allowed so that he dissented from the opinion rendered today.

The argument that may be used in small quantities," said Dr. Wiley in his dissent. "It is the old, familiar one which adulterators and those who seek to adulterate have used from the very beginning.

There's No Excuse for Blotches, Blackheads and Pimples. The Right Way to Get Rid of Them Is By Taking Stuart's Calcium Water.

of things. If we admit one injurious substance in small quantities we cannot with any justice exclude any other.

The argument of small quantities has absolutely no ethical, logical or legal foundation, and is a dangerous concession to the interests of adulterators and misbrand food products could be made.

Wiley's Request Denied. Secretary of Agriculture Wilson has denied a request of Dr. Wiley, head of the pure food board, that the correspondence in a recent baking powder decision be made public.

The request was made by Dr. Wiley because of the charge made against him by the editor of a food publication, who declared that in the baking powder decision Wiley "acted as a censor."

Dr. Wiley recommended that a case against the baking powder company be placed in permanent abeyance, although examination had shown a small quantity of lead, about two one-thousandths of 1 per cent, in the powder.

SCHIFF MAY TALK TO GRAND JURORS

Banker Must Waive Immunity to Testify in Brandt Case.

New York, Nov. 29.—The grand jury investigating the charge that there was a conspiracy whereby Folke E. Brandt was sent away for a thirty-year term in prison for burglary, may summon Mortimer L. Schiff, the banker, and former employer of Brandt.

Schiff's counsel, however, has refused to waive immunity, and the grand jury had no objection to the appearance of Mr. Schiff and Mr. Gann before the grand jury provided that it was judicially decided that they would not gain immunity.

Letter Is Disputed. The banker and his counsel previously requested an audience before the grand jury. District Attorney Whitman is extremely desirous of obtaining a letter written by Brandt and addressed to Mrs. Schiff just before he was taken to prison. The letter was written by one of counsel for Brandt in New York, and is not a release from prison while laying the foundations for his later appeal.

This letter is supposed to be in the possession of Mr. Schiff.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 29.—A court-martial try Lieut. J. C. Jones, U. S. Navy, charged with conduct unbecoming an officer, has been summoned to meet at Puget Sound navy yard March 4.

The charge was preferred by Lieut. Charles Jones, who is stationed at the yards. McKeenolds obtained a divorce last month from Margaret P. McKeenolds on the ground of cruelty.

Efforts of marine corps and navy officials to avert a trial of the case proved fruitless on account of McKeenolds insisting that his charges against Jones be pressed.

Orders for the court-martial have just been received from the secretary of the navy.

BIG TIMBER CUT.

Michigan, Mich., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The lumber market may not be as active as in former years, and prices may be lower, nevertheless the logging industry in Upper Michigan this winter is decidedly prosperous. The aggregate cut will, according to timber authorities, be larger than for a number of years. Millions of feet of the finest white pine, some of the very last stands of this timber in the peninsula are falling before the woodman's axe and saw. So are vast quantities of hemlock and hardwood, likewise designed for manufacture into lumber. The cut of cedar is of huge dimensions and in the aggregate millions of cords is already awaiting shipment. Large stocks of mining timber have been put in. In every branch of the logging industry, in fact, operations are exceptionally active.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

ONE CHURCH PLAN GROWS

Union Church Idea in Crookston Reported to Be Assuming Form.

Two General Plans for Bringing About Proposition Are Being Considered.

Crookston, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Men and Religion Forward movement committee has issued invitations to every Protestant church in the city to hold congregational meetings and appoint a committee of three each to hold a general conference at a date to be set later, but in the near future, at which the Union church proposition shall be discussed.

The Baptist church has already named its committee, and this week meetings have been called in the Scandinavian M. E. church, the Baptist, the Congregational and several of the Scandinavian churches for that purpose. There seems little opposition to the idea in the M. E., the Congregational and the Presbyterian churches, the only difficulty being in working out a plan that will be satisfactory to all.

Two general plans have been suggested. One is that each church be represented on the general governing board of the Union church by two men; that the assessments of each congregation for the maintenance of the Union church be apportioned upon a basis of the membership of the other separate churches; that members be taken into the Union church according to the ritual of the individual church they may prefer, and that each church as now established maintains its auxiliary societies as at the present time, and maintains its connections with the parent body; and that the pastor for the Union church be selected by the congregations without creed attachments.

The other proposition, which meets with favor on the part of many, is that the congregations so desiring form a Union church, and that lots be cast as to whether it shall be an M. E., Presbyterian, Congregational, Baptist or Episcopal church, and that the organization of that church be carried out, with the auxiliary societies of that church maintained only. This plan is generally conceded to be the more simple and practical.

Pastors Keeping Background.
The pastors of the city are very generally keeping their background apparently favoring the idea, but allowing their congregations to discuss the situation unhindered by their own opinions, and unhampered by any consideration of how a particular church will affect the pastors' fortunes as individuals.

BOOMERS OF STATE ARE HOLDING MEET

Federated Commercial Clubs of North Dakota Consider Boosting Methods.

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Federated commercial clubs of the state are holding their annual meeting here today. The session commenced last night and will be completed late this afternoon. Means of increasing the state's population, the principal topic for the convention, and it is expected that some line of action will be determined upon as feasible in carrying out the objects of the organization.

Representatives of the Grand Forks, N. D., M. Neill of Red Wing, Minn.; D. C. Bacheller of Grand Forks, J. P. Hardy of Fargo, O. M. Thurber of Fargo, Secretary Mattson of the Good Roads association, Mayor M. F. Murphy of Grand Forks, and several others.

It is a great task, said President J. Dexter Pierce in his annual address, to induce selfish human beings to take the broad view and see the benefits which will come through a state organization of commercial clubs. Publicity, he believed, was essential to the biggest success.

Considering the importance of advertising he believed new plans should be adopted by all publicity workers for the state. The adoption of a plan whereby a foreign appetite for North Dakota publicity would be created, being the idea of the convention.

He endorsed the plan of establishing an exhibit at the Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota would have a joint interest. "North Dakota can beat the world on wheat, oats, barley or potatoes, and we should see that she takes some of the prizes at the American and International exposition," he said.

Better farming was also lauded as an agency through which the federation would be able to gain no little assistance in its efforts. To increase the population of the state to 1,000,000 in 1915.

YOUNG MAN KILLED BY PORTABLE SAWMILL.

St. Cloud, Minn., Feb. 23.—John Heniges, aged 21, residing near Richmond, is dead as the result of injuries sustained while engaged in his father's portable sawmill. The young man was feeding slabs to the circular saw, a portion of a slab becoming entangled with the saw, and in some manner drew both the victim and the timber to the teeth of the revolving instrument. Both of the youth's legs were horribly lacerated, and he sustained internal injuries.

EATING DEER AND DUCKS.

Keweenaw Peninsula Wolves Fattening on Rich Food This Winter.

Eagle Harbor, Mich., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Packs of wolves at the extremity of the Keweenaw peninsula are waxing fat this winter. Deer and ducks are being killed and are ample food. The former are generally easy to kill in the winter time. This season they are falling prey to unusually large numbers because of the exceptional abundance of deer, in which they founder about helplessly. Ducks have been added to the menu of the frozen condition of Lake Superior. The bays are icebound

GRAND FORKS MAYORALTY SOCIALIST CANDIDATE

J. E. KULSTAD.

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. E. Kulstad is the first candidate for the position of mayor of Grand Forks to enter the race. He is put forward as the representative of the Socialist party. Mr. Kulstad's candidacy has been fathered by the Socialist local, and the party not only has nominated a candidate for mayor, but has also put a complete ticket in the field.

M. F. Murphy, the present incumbent, is his only opponent to date. Mr. Murphy is a Democrat.

and the lake itself is frozen as far as the eye can see. Ducks are congregated in hundreds on the ice near the shores and in their starving condition and huddled with cold they are easy prey for the wolves.

Adolph Rohling and other fishermen who have been harvesting ice near Eagle Harbor have been interested observers of the hunting methods of one pack of the savage beasts. At that particular locality there seemed to be thousands of ducks and the wolves were having a great feast until the men drove them away with rifle bullets. It has been a great many years since ducks have been so plentiful in Upper Michigan.

BELTRAMI SELLS DITCHING BONDS

Amount to $270,000, Bond Buyers Being Allowed $5,000 Commission.

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Bonds to the amount of $270,000 have just been sold by the county commissioners. Of this amount $220,000 at 5 per cent are to be taken by the Security Trust company of St. Paul and $50,000 at 4 per cent by the State of Minnesota. The bonds were given $5,000 for their services.

This action comes at the end of a period of ten months during which time a test case on bonds has been pending in the state supreme court. The bonds were agreed to some months ago but the company making the bid found that they could not mark the bonds until the supreme court decided that the bonds were valid.

At the time the bonds were given to the county as well as on the land adjacent to the ditch. The $220,000 taken by the Security Trust company for twenty years, while the $50,000 taken by the State of Minnesota in two payments, one in 1917 and one in 1920. This has been a great relief to the county as the ditch bond indebtedness of the county at present about $250,000.

"Faust, a Drama of the Soul," was the subject of the lecture given last evening at the Unitarian church by Rev. George H. Gebauer. This was the second of a series of six on "Faust" which he is giving. Goethe's version was taken for the topic of last evening's lecture.

Mr. Gebauer said in part: "The drama we hear it often said, represents the work of a life time, of sixty long years. It would be better to say, that it expresses the development of a life time. The one great theme which it embodies is that of the soul at various stages of its long life, and it is on this account mainly that it is not a rounded, finished product, perfect in every detail, one part suggesting symmetrically every other part, in spite of all its beauty, depth of thought and grandeur. Happily, for the world a new stimulating influence appeared with Schiller and Goethe, that we possess this literary treasure, priceless in spite of imperfections."

"The great drama takes its start in heaven, where the Lord himself announces the central thought and 'leit-motif' of the poem. It is the education of man through the experience of good and evil. The first scene in heaven is suggested by the first chapter of the book of Job, where we read that on a certain 'sons of God' came to present themselves before the Lord, and he takes hold of the idea that Satan himself belonged to the divine court. He is one of the princes, whose special sphere is on earth. Melchior, the tempter, he represents the element in human nature which is ever dissatisfied with things as they are, and seeks to man's efforts after perfection only the constant failure and not the development of character that takes place through effort in spite of all failure. He believes that even Faust, who seems to be the special favorite of the Lord, would go to perdition if only he could be put to the test. The Lord accepts the wager of Satan, and Faust is turned over to the devil's power. The devil is triumphant in anticipation, for he does not fully realize that his own work is needed for the higher development of Faust; he does not see that in serving his own wicked ends, he is serving God. This scene is full of devilish humor, which contrasts with a divine self-assured dignity in the Lord."

"Faust the Scholar. The next scene brings us down to earth. There is no visible connection between the two. Faust, the scholar, in his gloomy study, surrounded by dead parchments and books, is a man who has given up the end of his string, and finds after a hopeless search that he cannot solve the riddle of the universe by the help of magic. A great work of art, the book in which he has written, is the spiritual forces in nature. He succeeds in calling up the spirit of a departed scholar, who has been by his side, and as a last resort his mind turns to the idea of self-immolation, that freed from all earthly impediments the soul might attain to the truth for which it yearns. But just as he is about to drink the poison cup, the sun rises and from the east church Easter music is sounding. The processional is moving with shouts and songs, the words he is reminded of his childhood with its naive belief, its trust. He puts away the cup and in feeling it not in faith becomes a part of the life which has no joy for him. He is saved by the child that had slumbered in his breast."

Revival of "Oliver Twist" With an All-Star Cast

AT REHEARSAL OF "OLIVER TWIST." One of the most significant dramatic productions of the season will be "Oliver Twist," which will be given at the New Amsterdam theater, under the management of Lichter & Co. It will be given in the version by Sir Beerholm Tree, which has been so successful in London. George C. Tyler has got together for this revival a remarkable cast. It includes Nat Goodwin, as Fagin; Lynn Harding, as Bill Sikes; Constance Collier, as Nancy Sikes; and Marie Doro, as Oliver Twist. At one of the final rehearsals this week the photographer caught George C. Tyler, the manager of Lichter & Co., in conference with the four principals of the company. Though Fagin was threatened by Mr. Tyler with Bill Sikes's bludgeons, the expression on Oliver's face proved that the argument was good-natured. From left to right in the picture the figures are: George C. Tyler, Constance Collier, Marie Doro, Lynn Harding and Nat Goodwin.

The musical program for the evening was delightful. Miss Catherine Morton opened the evening with an organ solo. In the spring of 1911 Fritz Frederic played two violin numbers which were exceptionally pleasing. The soloist was Miss Florence Hyland sang a hymn with fine interpretation and Miss Florence Hyland sang a hymn with fine interpretation and Miss Florence Hyland sang a hymn with fine interpretation.

SUPPER MEETING. Andrew Nelson Talks on Effect of Votes for Women. Andrew Nelson gave an interesting talk on woman's suffrage last evening before the members of the Women's Suffrage association at a meeting in the council chamber of the city hall.

"Brewery interests have Minnesota by the throat as much as they have any state in the Union. Those interests know that if women had the suffrage that hold would soon be loosened. The California brewers have made the strongest opponents of the modern creed is that prevention of suffering is greater than the dreadful waste of human beings by disease. There is no need of the economic point of view, as many progressive manufacturers have come to see. Shortened hours mean more work done. But if the same or a greater amount of work is done in a shorter time, it is not just to decrease the wage of the worker merely because you have shortened his hours. The Lawrence manufacturers have yet to learn this."

"Allowing preventable diseases and deaths the contrast is the worst form of race suicide."

Mrs. H. E. Hare of Lakeville was chosen as secretary and treasurer of the association in a brief business meeting after Mr. Nelson's talk. Mrs. A. L. Atwood reported on the flourishing condition of the West Duluth association. It was suggested that the library board be asked to reconsider its decision that the association could not meet in the library club rooms.

"DEESTRICK SKULE." Duluth Heights People Give Play. The people of Duluth Heights who gave the little entertainment "The Deestrick Skule," at the hall there last evening and Tuesday evening, made a big hit with two large sized audiences which taxed the capacity of the house. In the audience were many people from other parts of the city who enjoyed the evening immensely.

The little sketch was well carried out in costume and lines, and the "well-out" hand which played a program on old pans, cans and combs made a big hit. The program was given by Stoddard, Mrs. Batterman, Mrs. Benjamin Wood, Mrs. W. P. Pennell, Mrs. E. T. Tronick, Mrs. Brayton, Mrs. E. W. Sewery, Miss Jessie Balmer, George Johnson, William Tolman, Mr. W. Johnson, Mrs. Mac Clemons, Mrs. J. Balmer, William Butler, Mrs. R. C. Kennedy, Mr. Hare and Mrs. J. D. Wilson.

SINGS FOR URCHIN.

Great Artist Delights Heart of Small Boy. The night after Charles W. Clark made his first appearance in Minneapolis, after his return from a recent trip abroad, a small, poorly-dressed youngster stopped this great American baritone in the lobby of the Hotel DuSable and asked him if he would present him with a ticket for his next concert. "I'm sorry," replied the singer, "but I do not sing in Minneapolis again."

Then seeing the disappointed look on the upturned face, his kind heart was won and he took the lad to his rooms, where for half an hour he sang the great operatic arias of his repertoire, sending a musically-inclined newsboy on his way rejoicing. Clark's manager estimated that Clark had given the youngster $500 worth of music. He remarked, "and as Clark and the newsboy were satisfied, I should be, too."

Charles W. Clark will make his appearance in concert on Wednesday, March 6, at the Pilgrim Congregational church, 11th street and Hennepin. The Matinee Musical. This is the last of the artist's recitals for the year and a large attendance is expected.

Judge J. D. Ensign will have charge of the March calendar in district court at the opening of the new term next Wednesday.

There are 187 civil cases on the March calendar, 111 of which will be new cases and 76 continued. The term will not be an exceptionally heavy one, although there will be 21 more cases than were listed on the January calendar.

The percentage of jury cases for the new term is large. Out of a total of 187, the number of jury actions noticed for trial are 118. Seventy of these will be new cases, 43 having been continued from former terms.

Members of the grand and petit juries are now being subpoenaed. At the call of the calendar next Wednesday, the members of the grand jury will be sworn in, after which they will go into secret session for the consideration of matters to be brought before them by County Attorney John H. Norton.

The county attorney has less than fifteen cases to be presented.

BABY FINDS MATCHES AND IS TERRIBLY BURNED

Helen, the 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Appleby of 227 Janit street, was probably fatally burned about 10 o'clock this morning when she accidentally set fire to her clothes with matches during the mother's temporary absence upstairs. The child was playing in the kitchen, where Mrs. Appleby had kindled a fire a short while before. Tossing about, she is believed to have taken the matches from the table, lighting her clothes with them shortly afterwards. When her mother came rushing downstairs in response to the baby's screams of agony she found the child a human torch. Smothering the flames as best she could, she hurriedly summoned a physician, Dr. A. C. Taylor responding at top speed. The little girl was terribly burned about the body, arms, head and face. Everything possible was done to alleviate the awful pain. At noon today she was still at her home, not having been removed to a hospital. The child is in extremely dangerous condition, but Mr. Taylor held forth some hope of her ultimate recovery.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING, HE SUES RAILROAD COMPANY

Ever had a "hunch" that you would be struck by lightning? Mike Luchich, a steel gang worker on the new Canadian Northern line and his "hunch" came true. This, at least, is his claim, and in a peculiar personal injury action filed in district court yesterday afternoon, he wants his employers, the Walbridge-Hoag Construction company to pay him $2,656 damages. Luchich, the complaint says, was struck by lightning in a thunderstorm July 30 last year. At the time he was employed by the contractors in laying rails on the new Canadian Northern line near the station at Duluth. Luchich claims the men on the steel gang no longer had any knowledge of the fact that a storm was brewing. The clouds were low-lying and the atmosphere seemed to be electrified by the mysterious "juice." Luchich and his associates were charged with the attention of the foreman to the approaching storm, but he refused to do so. Luchich claims that the rain actually prevented. The work was ordered to be rushed. Luchich claims that if he had been warned of the storm, he would have been able to avoid it. Luchich's account of the lightning strike is that he was standing on a pile of rails when a bolt of lightning struck him through the steel rail and which paralyzed his right arm. Luchich claims that the foreman, in acting for the company, failed to exercise ordinary care and precaution and that it was an act of negligence to ask him to work in the face of a lightning storm. Luchich's arm is permanently paralyzed and he is unable to work. He claims that he has lost $2,500 general damages and $156 for time which he has lost. Luchich has an attorney for him, which in the action.

CHECK IS TURNED DOWN

County Treasurer Refuses to Accept $27,065.93 From Traction Company.

As evidence of its intention to fight the 1911 personal property tax assessment amounting to $43,410.51, the Duluth Street Railway company yesterday afternoon tendered County Treasurer Charles Holmstrom a check for $27,065.93. It was refused as insufficient.

Today is the last day on which the 1911 personal property tax assessments may be paid without a 10 per cent penalty. Tomorrow they become delinquent. The tendering of the check by the street railway company yesterday protects the company from the penalty regardless of whether it wins or loses the tax case in the courts.

Last year the traction company tendered County Treasurer Holmstrom $29,000 in full payment for the 1910 personal property tax assessment. The money was refused and litigation was started by the state and county officials to enforce the payment. If the courts uphold the state and the 1910 assessment stands, it is not probable that the traction company will fight the 1911 assessment now due.

WOLVES KILLING FEWER DEER IN THIS STATE.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 29. — Fewer deer are being killed by wolves this year than usual, according to information which has come to the offices of the state game and fish commission.
"We have experienced practically no warm days," H. Riber, executive agent, said, "which would cause the top of the snow to melt and the wolves would find it difficult to track their prey. The wolves, however, which would not sustain the deer. The wolves and the snow are busy as the deer, right now."

A SIMPLE RECIPE FOR RHEUMATISM

The Home Prescription Which Anyone Can Prepare — Doesn't Cost Much — Relieves Many Cases — Makes the Kidneys Take Out the Poisons.

Thousands of men and women who have felt the sting and torture of this dread disease, which is no respecter of age, person, sex, color or rank, will be interested to know that while for many years rheumatism was considered an incurable disease, now it is one of the easiest afflictions of the human body to conquer. Medical science has proved that a distinct disease in itself, but a symptom caused by indigestion and inactive kidneys. Rheumatism is uric acid in the blood and other waste products of the system, which should be filtered and strained out in the form of urine. The function of the kidneys is to sift these poisons and acids out and keep the blood clear and pure. The kidneys, however, are of sponge-like substance, the holes or pores of which will sometimes, either from overwork, cold or exposure, become clogged and inactive, and fail in their function of eliminating these poisons from the blood, they remain in the veins, decompose and settling about the joints and muscles, cause the untold suffering and pain of rheumatism and backache, these produce complications of bladder and urinary diseases, weakness, etc.

The following simple prescription is said to relieve the worst cases of rheumatism because of its direct action upon the stomach, blood and kidneys, relieving, too, the most severe forms of bladder and urinary troubles: Fluid Extract Juniper Berries, one ounce; Compound Fluid Balmwort, one ounce; Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, four ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle and take in 4 spoonful doses before each meal and at bedtime. The ingredients can be had from any good prescription pharmacy and are absolutely harmless and safe to use at any time.

TAFT PLANS STUMP TOUR

President Will Make Many Speeches Before the Convention.

Campaign Advisers Regard Him as Their Best Orator.

Washington, Feb. 29. — President Taft will soon start a vigorous speaking campaign to explain his position on current questions and further his candidacy for renomination.

Before the Republican national convention meets in June, the president will spend many days on the road and is expected to deliver scores of speeches. He will travel as far west as Chicago, as far north as New Hampshire and south at least as far as Georgia. Other engagements may be made in the next few weeks. The president's political advisers believe he is the best orator.

Ever since the Taft renomination headquarters were opened here, Representative William B. McKinley was put in charge. Republican leaders have urged the president to get into the campaign. He began following this advice when he accepted an invitation of a year's standing to attend the fifth annual dinner of the Swedish-American Republican club in Chicago. The acceptance of that invitation was followed by the announcement that the president had consented to stop on his way west at Toledo, Ohio.

Busy Time Ahead.
Invitations to visit Youngstown and Massillon have been received, and probably will be accepted. A few days ago the White House let it be known that the president would go to Savannah in April or May and might stop at Pittsburgh, N. C.

Last night after a short conference with Senators Crane, Smoot and Gallagher, it was said that the president would extend his trip to Boston to include Nashua and Concord, N. H. He will leave Washington for Boston on March 17, spend March 18 there, and will visit the two New Hampshire cities March 19.

Although no announcement has been made of subjects for speeches the president will make on these trips, it is practically certain that he will not fail to include in his addresses the recall of judges, the "recruit of judicial decisions," possibly the initiative and referendum, and topics touched by Col. Roosevelt in his speech at Columbus last week. Probably Mr. Taft will make no direct reply to that speech, and it has been stated with emphasis that he will not indulge in personalities. But that he will make clear his own views on many of the doctrines advocated by Col. Roosevelt in Columbus is almost certain.

For Cummins will remain a candidate and there are plenty who think that if such a thing as the convention meets that the nomination of a Progressive shall be made necessary, the Taft forces will go more readily to the loaves than to Roosevelt who has made his fight distinctly personal.

Spencer Sees Defeat.
In the main the Republican public sentiment is fairly expressed by Ex-Senator Spencer, who while in public life was known as one of the keenest of political observers, and has lost neither his zeal for observation nor his shrewdness since his retirement to the comfortable haven of a corporation law practice.

"It is the worst split the Republican party has seen since 1892," says Spencer, "and as everybody knows division then meant the election of a Democratic president. It will end in the same result this year. There can be no healing of the breach now. The convention can do nothing more than to nominate a man to certain defeat, whether it be Taft or Roosevelt. Enough friends of either man will desert the convention to elect the other to secure his defeat. In my opinion the election of 1912 is lost."

"Representative Thomas W. Bradley is one of the most consistent Republicans in the New York delegation. He is a veteran of the Civil war, was wounded at Gettysburg, the Wilderness and Petersburg; has been a delegate to four Republican national conventions and a representative in five congresses. Col. Roosevelt will be beaten as badly in the up-state of New York as in the metropolitan," says Col. Bradley whose district lies just north of the Highlands of the Hudson. "He will lose the state by 200,000. What is the use of such a Democratic candidate he will lose Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Connecticut. I do not even believe he can carry Rhode Island. But he has already cost the Republican party the election."

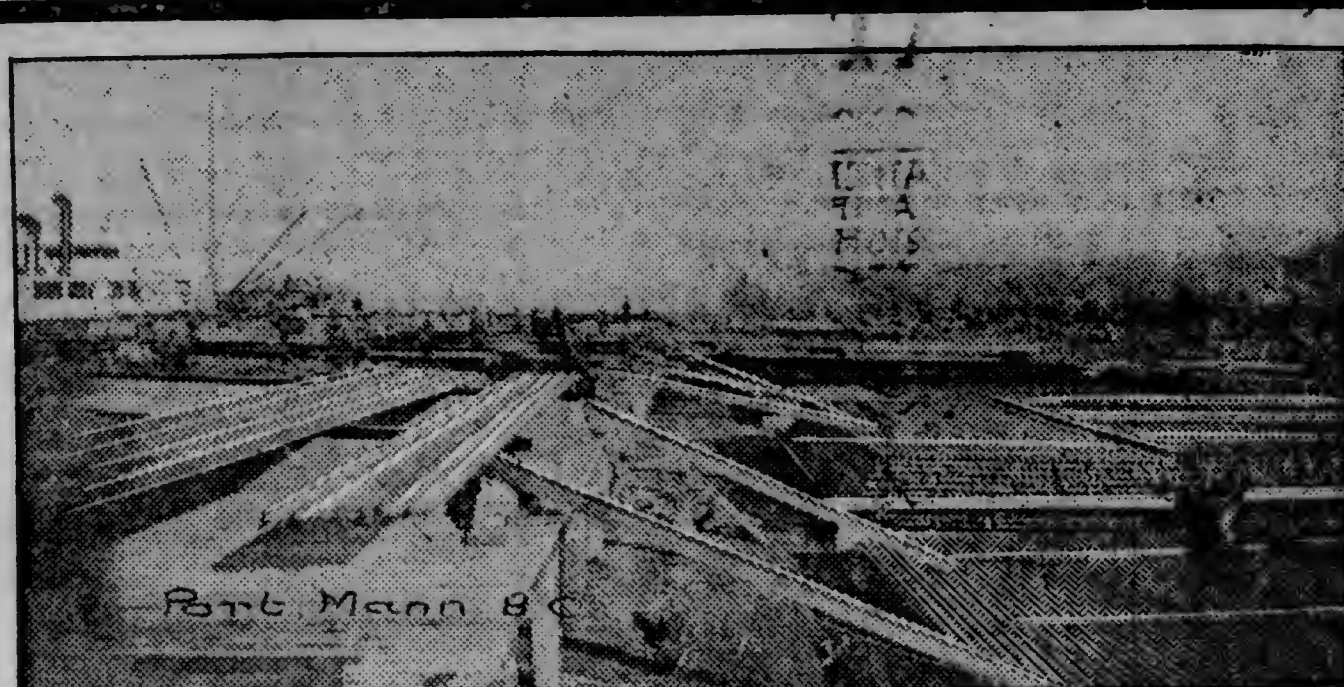

Democrat Views.
On the other hand Representative Underwood, Democrat of Pennsylvania, insists that Roosevelt will sweep that state by 200,000 and carry away in the rush most of its Democratic congressmen. When it was suggested that so far as the electoral votes were concerned, Pennsylvania was a negligible quantity Mr. Underwood was indignant. "With Clark, Harmon or Underwood," he said, "we can carry Pennsylvania against Taft. The real fight in the state is against Senator Penrose, and Taft's alliance with Penrose would enable us to sweep them both away together. But the first thing Roosevelt will do will be to repudiate Penrose and thus deprive us of the chief Democratic issue."

He found this apprehension as to the effect of a Roosevelt nomination on the vote in Missouri. To some extent it is being fostered by the advocates of Champ Clark who point out that the colonel is extremely strong in the state and that its electoral vote would very probably be lost to the Democrats and to the other than Speaker Clark should be the nominee.

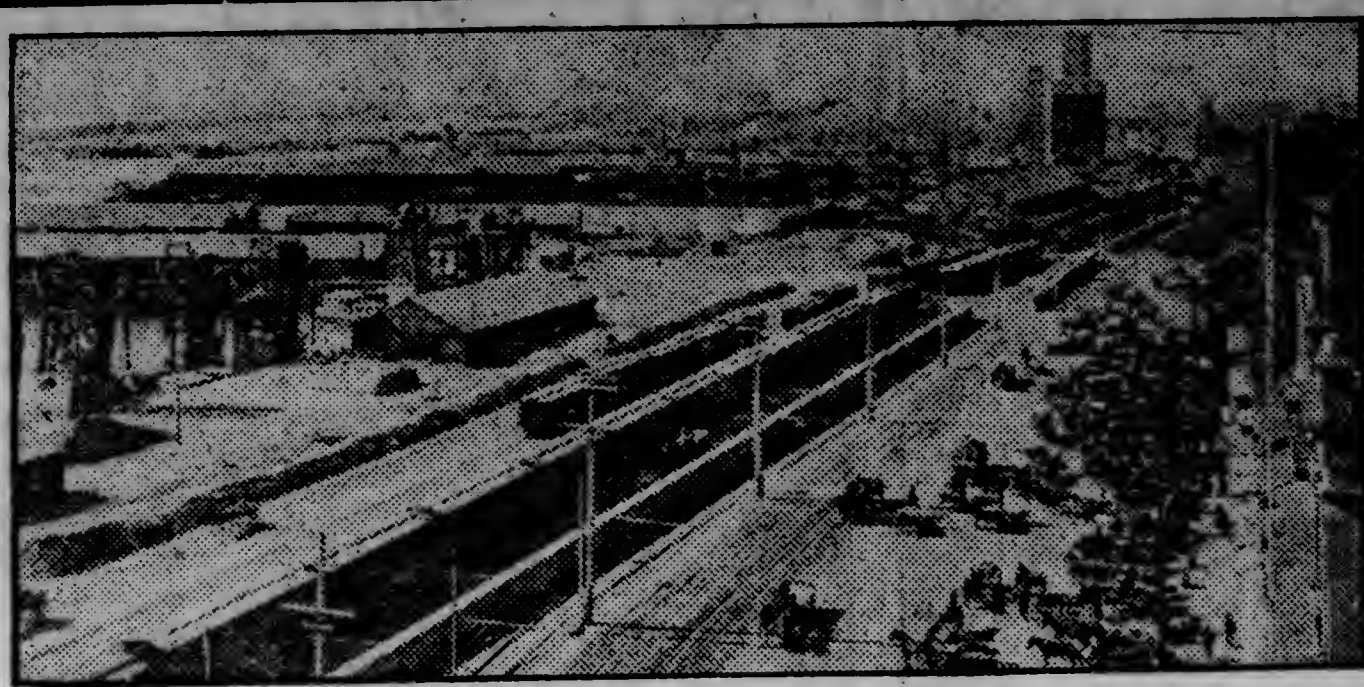

Pact to the Democrats.

Some of the millions of Americans, too, are distressed at the Roosevelt outlook. "He is the most dangerous man we could have to meet," said Representative Cullum, in New York.

CANADIAN NORTHERN RAILWAY

Remember how every United States and Canadian Port City has grown in recent history with the immense rises in property values, as in Vancouver with all its present wealth since its rise from a primeval forest. Port Mann is the same as these. Practical City Landscape Surveyors have laid out and platted the business and residence property on a well considered plan. Everything is just starting. Big interests are establishing car works at Port Mann; and two steel and iron foundry works are about to be built, also flour mills and cold storage plants. Big financial interests are quick to see advantages of location at this important transcontinental freight terminal port.

Remember next year, 1913, is the time set for "driving the last spike" at Port Mann, completing the Canadian Northern Railway from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

At Port Mann the Canadian Northern Railway transcontinental trains will meet the steamship lines from Yokohama, Hongkong and Australia. Also steamship line via the Panama Canal will carry the Canadian Prairie Province grain surplus to Europe via Panama. Thousands of men and teams, trains, machinery are digging and blasting and building their way westward now through mountain tunnels, over the plains, through the forests and on to completion of this greatest of transcontinental lines of the 20th century. Already the construction eastward from Port Mann has been nearly completed and work is being rushed to the utmost of human possibility, backed by millions upon millions of dollars of capital.

CONVICT TELLS ABOUT ESCAPING

Peter Juhl Relates in Court How He and McCarthy Broke Prison.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 29.—An attack upon the sensational story of Peter Juhl, convict at Stillwater penitentiary, concerning his escape and that of Jerry McCarthy, alias Tom Hatch, Minnesota and Iowa bandits, occupied the session of the court yesterday afternoon in the trial of James (Hod) Lyons, charged with "concealment" in connection with the escape of the two men the night of March 4, 1911. The state rested yesterday afternoon after Judge C. S. Jolly had denied a motion made by the defense to have Juhl's testimony excluded and an immense crowd was present to hear of the adventures of the two bandits, who in April, 1911, attempted to blow the safe of the courthouse at Des Moines, Iowa, and for several months last year terrorized states of the Middle West.

I was a trusty and while my cell was on the lower floor of the cellhouse and McCarthy's was on the fourth, I was allowed to go where I pleased."

Juhl related how, on the night of March 4, he went to McCarthy's cell, although there were two guards on duty, how he and McCarthy escaped from the cell house without being seen by the guards, and scrambled over the wall near the gate. Here, he declared, they were seen by passers-by and were forced to run for a time. He declared that McCarthy never had told him where he had obtained the keys, and that he returned the one which he had used, to turn the switch which liberated McCarthy. It previously was supposed that the convicts had made the keys in the prison shops.

Dressed only in prison garments, he declared, after a hard fight with the blizzard which was raging, they reached a barn in the outskirts of St. Paul, where they stayed all day. That night, he said, McCarthy left the barn and returned with clothes which he turned over to him (Juhl). Although McCarthy still was dressed in the prison clothes, Juhl declared, they rode on a street car to Minneapolis and went to the saloon of which Lyons was one of the proprietors.

The saloon was supposed to be closed, as it was Sunday night, but they were admitted by Lyons according to Juhl, who said: "Hello Jerry, I knew that you would come to me."

Juhl said Lyons gave McCarthy money and clothing and that they had left the building. On cross examination his story remained unshaken. Last year terrified states of the Middle West.

Tells of Escape Plan.

"It was on New Year's day" Juhl be-by attorneys for both sides, in which he declared that he had called Lyons formerly a guard at the penitentiary, by telephone the night of the convicts' escape and informed him that they were out and that they would come to his place.

Arthur Denson, the principal witness in the case against Fred Briggs, a local politician, who is serving time for his connection with McCarthy's crimes, also was on the stand at the afternoon session, declaring that Lyons as late as June had come to his poolroom and asked for "Harry Noland" under which name McCarthy then was going, and held a conference with him there.

COMMENT AND DIVERS DISCUSSION OF THE MERRY WORLD OF SPORT.

ONE WEEK from today and the long talked of, the long awaited, the much discussed world's championship wrestling match between Walter Miller, famed the length and breadth of this country and Canada as Young Miller, and our own Sailor Jack, who also has a reputation all over the Middle West, will take place. It will be the first world's championship contest ever decided in the northern part of the state and it will bring together two great little gladiators of the mat. Yesterday Jack told the writer of his confidence in being able to give Miller the greatest battle of his life. "I am in the best shape of my life," said the little marine, "and I have always wanted to meet this fellow. I am glad that the match is almost here. I have heard so much about Miller, and I have been after a match so long, that I am glad the time has come when I will know just where we stand."

The world-travelled little sailor is probably today in the best condition of his entire career. That is what he says, and judging from the way he wrestled with Lundin at the big show the other night, he is better today than he was on that memorable evening when he decisively beat Billy Schober and made the doubting Thomases of the town admit that he was a wrestler. When it comes to courage, to hardihood, to endurance, to gameness and the ability to go a long route, it seems hardly possible that there is a little man the size of the marine who will have anything on him. When a novice took all the endurance that master of the mat possessed to beat him. This Conkle grumbled up the marine something shamefully, and he never whimpered. Jack is one of the most powerful little fellows in the world. His muscles around the shoulders and neck are truly wonderful. Few wrestlers have been successful in clamping nelsons on him. The sailor is awfully powerful in the arms, too, and to finish off these attributes of strength he possesses a pair of thick and solid legs that makes bulging him around the mat a very difficult task.

Walter Miller is built like a young Apollo. But strong as the little Pole is, he does not depend so much upon strength as science and speed. Those who have seen the champion in most of his matches, say that he is always coming at his opponent, wrestling like little Terry McGovern used to fight. Come to think of it Miller is a great deal like Terry McGovern in looks and actions. He possesses the same short fighting nose that the former champion featherweight pugilist possessed, and then he has the aggressiveness that made the fighting of the little Irishman a sensation in a day when ring sensations were not few.

To offset this there is the dogged endurance of the Duluth boy, his bulldog tenacity, his ability to stand grunting and his wonderful endurance. These two boys present two contrasts in the wrestling world. Miller is excitable and fiery and of a highly nervous temperament; Jack is cool, more deliberate, and works along a persistent and steadfast track, refusing to be discouraged, tiring his opponent by his tireless effort.

YOUNG JOE ARMSTRONG is going to attempt to wrest the world's championship from the intercollegiate tennis title holder of Harvard. Those who saw the young performer wrest the last summer, will testify that he is one of the cleverest youngsters that has come out of the country since developed for some time. Young Joe should bring laurels to the University of Minnesota in his spring trip through the East, for the college players will be to some extent no better than the young St. Paul boy.

YESTERDAY came a lengthy letter from Alex Sloan, manager of one of the great automobile racing teams in the world. The former St. Paul newspaper man has made good in the auto race game and at the present time has the Case team under charge and says he has the very best drivers in the world. The big fellow predicts a great season for the coming spring and summer.

CHICAGO city officials came near writing a letter to some additional information concerning the Federal-Old Decade fight. Some of the police of Chicago were of the opinion that the big Dane is too tough and that he should be taught a lesson in some other way.

Federers did not even put the soft pedal on intention when he injured Ordeman. The big Dane is a gentleman, who is a pretty noisy fellow. They say he pretty noisy and he did not have the least idea that he was hurting the former champion of the world. On those members of the foreign invasion, they are sure the gazette with the "big de mus."

THE stogie story tellers of Pittsburgh, Pa., have been saying all along that Frank Klaus was the legitimate successor to the late Stanley Ketchel, and that he would be a good as good as the late champion. "WAHOO" SAM CRAWFORD.

COLLEGIANS NO GOOD IN BASEBALL, SAYS JENNINGS

I could count all the really good college baseball players in this country on my ten fingers. That is Jennings, manager of the Minnesota Tigers of Detroit.

Let us gather around the steam radiator and talk this thing over. There are many college men in this country, and many of them are good baseball players. When a man like Hugh Jennings, who neither eats with his knife nor points with pride in this country, tells us that the collegians are a blunder in big league baseball it raises a legitimate question.

The old order and the new. Baseball has developed in more ways than one since the days of the collegians. The game at all, it might be pointed out, is the same. It is a game of the body, and the body is the same. The game is the same, but the players are different. The collegians are not good enough to play in the big leagues.

Two Sample Teams. A man who knows baseball from umpire to batboy and back again has picked these two teams, and he asks which would win. Collegians: Pitchers, Mathewson, Bender and Coombs; catchers, Doolin and Archer; first base, Chase; second base, Collins; third base, Harry Lord; shortstop, Barry; right field, Hecher; center field, Birmingham; left field, Combs.

Common Pee-Pee-Pitchers, Johnson, Wist and Alexander; catchers, Stanage and Thomas; first base, Daubert; shortstop, Wagner; right field, Jackson; center field, Cobb; left field, Crawford. The matter of preference between a college and sand-lot player is merely a matter of managerial belief or prejudice. Managers like black want college men whenever possible, for they figure that these shape start with the brains, educational advantages and ability to assimilate information.

Joe Armstrong Arranges Tour. Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 29.—Joseph J. Armstrong, present holder of the Western tennis championship title, has completed the schedule for the Eastern invasion to be made by himself and partner. The big fellow predicts a great season for the coming spring and summer.

Armstrong on his trip East will attempt to wrest the national intercollegiate championship from Whitney of Harvard. The man who will accompany Armstrong has not been chosen, but it will be Seldore Stollwag or John McCre of St. Paul. The schedule is as follows:

May 13, at Champaign.
May 15, at Oberlin.
May 16, at University of Pittsburgh.
May 18, at University of Pennsylvania.
May 20, at Princeton.
May 21, at the College of the City of New York.
May 24, at Yale.
May 25, at Brown.
May 26, at Boston School of Technology.
May 29, at Harvard.
June 2, at Dartmouth.
June 4, at Amherst.

He will close his trip with participation in the national intercollegiate championship meet at Chicago June 6 to 8.

McGraw is Pleased with Young Recruits. Marlin Springs, Tex., Feb. 29.—Manager McGraw of the Giants declared he had the best bunch of youngsters with him this season that he had seen in a long time.

The scrappy leader was much pleased with the showing the recruits made in Tuesday's practice game and announced that real contests would be played every day as long as the present brand of summer weather held out. McGraw was particularly elated over the twirling of Munsell, who seemed to have everything in the way of curves and speed. McGraw captained the Mesquites, and they defeated the Pecans 1 to 1. The Pecans captain called the game called the end of the sixth inning because his bunch was in the lead.

CURING CLUB CAMPAIGN
WILL BEGIN MONDAYThirty Committee Captains Outline Plan for Ten Day Hustle for 1,000 Members--Will Insure Building of Mammoth
New Rink.

With 1,000 new members as the object of a hurry-up campaign, 100 enthusiastic members of the Duluth Curling club will begin button-holing their friends on the street and invading office buildings Monday morning at 8 o'clock.

The new members are needed by the club to insure the building of the mammoth new rink which will be erected during the summer at Fourteenth avenue east and London road. The new rink will, when completed, accommodate in the galleries some 8,000 spectators at hockey contests. Plans will also be made for curling, hockey and skating, and provision will also be made for summer sports.

Under the present plan the rink will be placed in the hands of the committee of thirty who will be elected at a meeting to be held at the Curling club. Plans will be made and advertised it as a city full of people who will be able to do it.

An enthusiastic meeting of the committee of thirty under whose auspices the campaign will be conducted, was held at the Commercial club last night. Plans were made for a vigorous campaign to last ten days beginning early Monday morning. It is the hope of the committee to have to offer for the very reasonable yearly dues of $15, there will be no delay in lining up the needed 1,000 new members.

Everything will be in readiness Monday morning and the campaign will begin with a rush. A central headquarters will be established at a point in the downtown district and from there the hustlers will work. A large sign will be posted showing the public the progress made from hour to hour.

At the committee meeting last night at the Commercial club, it was decided that each one of the committee of thirty will act as a captain of a squad of five. The squads will be selected by the captain himself. These committees of three will bring the hustlers up to nearly 1,000, including those employed at headquarters.

Today the committee captains are selecting the two members of their committee to work with them in the campaign for new members. By Monday morning there will be nothing left for but to hustle.

The dues are set at but $15 per year and the new members will be asked to pay them over until they are paid. The members of their family and the members of their family will be asked to pay the dues. The membership money will be due by the 15th.

The membership will be limited to 1,000 new members secured at the present hustle and after they have made out, it is probable, too, that an initiation fee will be tacked onto the dues to secure the honor of maintaining the greatest number of new members.

With a list of desirable names secured from the membership rolls of the Commercial club, the boat club, the Kitchi Gammil club and other clubs in the city, the members of the committee will start out to get the new project. Duluth people have been asked to do this.

It is just as an older curler said at the meeting last night: "We curlers could build a little curling club on our own, and we could do it very well, but we want to build an institution of the city with the curling club, and we want the children of the members to get the right sort of recreation under the right conditions."

The committee captains follow: R. L. Close, vice chairman. Ray Fenton. Ed Furl. B. Jacob. Dr. Cheney. J. A. Wharton. Gordon Wood. E. MacGowan. Walter Harris. Ed Deetz. Roy Higgins. M. E. Janar. W. Dinham. Leon Coley. W. Dinham. Ray Fenton. Bert MacLiner. James Rockwell. Clarence Getty. Rex Weisenber. R. B. McGowan. Ralph Pined. Fred Plunk. J. F. Plunk. A. A. Michaud.

The fleet of the Duluth Boat club has been increased by the addition of two fine cruising sail boats. Class B, the largest sized used in the club's sailing races, the Allegro, owned by Charles Brewer, being in this class.

The boats are the property of the club and will be sailed by skippers selected by the sailing committee of the club. The acquisition of the two new boats means that there will be some interesting races in Class B, and that the club will not be the case during the past year.

It has also been announced that several additional acres have been purchased at Oatka, and that two new tennis courts will be constructed by the club. This will give the boat club four courts, and the new tennis courts will give the club six courts.

The construction of the two additional courts will give the Duluth club a total of six courts, and the club will be able to accommodate a large number of tennis players more opportunity to play.

Officials of the club intimate that there will be some crack motor boats here this year, but as yet the names of the club owners who are contemplating purchases have not been made.

hour with any one who can enlighten him on matters pertaining to this sort of thing. Instead of being made ill or uncomfortable by the sight of blood and by the feeling that one man's skill at a critical moment depends another's life, he has the true surgeon's nerve.

Once down in Georgia, Ty says, when a negro was brought into a hospital for an operation that was to save his life if anything could, the great ball player was allowed to assist the surgeons. The wounded man was cut open and then Cobb was permitted to feel around inside of him for the bullet. The result of his exploration in the negro's internal anatomy Ty does not make public, but he recalls the experience as one of the most interesting of his life.

It was not until Ty's first year in the big league that he abandoned his idea of becoming a surgeon. When he saw how well things were going for him and realized that he was assured of a large income right off the bat, he made up his mind that he could not afford the years of study and self-discipline necessary to complete the education that he planned for himself.

CRACK TEAMS TO PLAY FOR TITLE. At the Duluth Curling club tomorrow evening the first of a series of hockey games between the crack curling club teams and the strong Adams boys will be played. The games will be for the championship of the city, and a great deal of interest is being manifested in the outcome of the series.

The playing of the Adams boys has been the feature of the present season of hockey. The triple A aggregation has not been defeated the present season, and the West end club has been placed in the field. The large following of the Adams club is confident that the blue and white players will win the series and the city championship, while the supporters of the East end players are just as confident.

Oarsmen Will Meet. The first meeting of the candidates for the crews of the Duluth Boat club will be held at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow evening. A number of candidates are expected out to get a line on the situation. Work on the machines will begin the first of next week.

SEASON FOR BASS CLOSES

Pike, Perch and Sturgeon
Also Protected for Next Three Months.

This is the last day of the open season for bass, pike, muskellunge, crappie, perch, sunfish, catfish and sturgeon. At midnight the "lid" goes on for bass until May 28, and for other fish until May 1. Nothing but pickered, suckers, redhorse, carp and bullheads may be taken. There is no closed season for these fish. They may be taken at any time of the year but artificial lights for such purposes are prohibited during May and June.

According to H. A. Rider, executive agent for the state game and fish commission, there has been less unlawful spearing of fish during the open season which ends tomorrow, than in previous years. Numerous arrests have been made however, of persons spearing in lakes and streams stocked by the game and fish commission. In the office of the commission is a photograph of five enormous buffalo fish, speared near Winona, Minn., seized by Deputy Game Warden J. P. Feigau.

Fish houses may be retained on the ice, if it lasts, until April 1, but if any game fish come wandering about and are careless enough to strike the net of any fisherman's line, the law requires that they shall be returned to the water. Only the pickered, redhorse, carp and bullheads are unprotected.

The game and fish commission is already preparing to start its campaign against spearing in the state's lakes and streams this spring. There arrived at the offices in the capitol yesterday, a box containing 10,000 land-locked salmon spawn, shipped from the state of Maine.

The box was later taken to the St. Paul hatchery, where two aged salmon lake spawn reached the St. Paul hatchery from Duluth. The spawn was gathered in Lake Superior.

McGraw is Pleased with Young Recruits. Marlin Springs, Tex., Feb. 29.—Manager McGraw of the Giants declared he had the best bunch of youngsters with him this season that he had seen in a long time.

The scrappy leader was much pleased with the showing the recruits made in Tuesday's practice game and announced that real contests would be played every day as long as the present brand of summer weather held out. McGraw was particularly elated over the twirling of Munsell, who seemed to have everything in the way of curves and speed. McGraw captained the Mesquites, and they defeated the Pecans 1 to 1. The Pecans captain called the game called the end of the sixth inning because his bunch was in the lead.

POVERTY DROVE COBB
INTO NATIONAL GAME

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 29.—Had Ty Cobb been lucky enough to inherit wealth, instead of being confronted by the necessity of earning his own living, the diamond might have never known its most brilliant star. Originally the Georgia peach's ambition was in an altogether different direction than hitting home runs and pulling down the drives with one hand. As a boy, he had mapped out the career of a surgeon, and he was only for circumstances that made it necessary for him to receive an immediate income he probably would have followed out his line.

Great as has been Ty's success on the ball field he sometimes regrets that he could not have learned to take people apart and put them together again as do the masters of modern surgery. He is much interested in the progress of the science and reads all the literature on the subject that comes to his hand. Nothing pleases him better than to be allowed to witness a delicate operation on the human body. He will pass up almost anything to attend a clinic where the surgeons are at work and will talk by the hour with any one who can enlighten him on matters pertaining to this sort of thing.

Instead of being made ill or uncomfortable by the sight of blood and by the feeling that one man's skill at a critical moment depends another's life, he has the true surgeon's nerve.

Once down in Georgia, Ty says, when a negro was brought into a hospital for an operation that was to save his life if anything could, the great ball player was allowed to assist the surgeons. The wounded man was cut open and then Cobb was permitted to feel around inside of him for the bullet. The result of his exploration in the negro's internal anatomy Ty does not make public, but he recalls the experience as one of the most interesting of his life.

It was not until Ty's first year in the big league that he abandoned his idea of becoming a surgeon. When he saw how well things were going for him and realized that he was assured of a large income right off the bat, he made up his mind that he could not afford the years of study and self-discipline necessary to complete the education that he planned for himself.
